October 2011

MVA PUBLIC MEETING

8pm Wed 19 Oct

All Welcome & Encouraged to attend
at Ngatimoti Memorial Hall

Background

The Tasman Resource Management Plan (TRMP) sets out the rules for what residents of the District can do on their land without council involvement (known as permitted activities) and those that require council consent. Under current rural provisions consent is required to legally enable owners to have more than one residential activity (i.e. dwelling) on their site. There is a growing desire amongst residents in the Motueka Valley (and elsewhere) to live collaboratively with others on their land, which often requires the erection of additional dwellings.

Under the Resource Management Act, TDC can monitor landowner's compliance with the TRMP. Recently the council has become more proactive in doing this. It has served abatement notices on several owners requiring them to stop all unconsented residential activities on their property. Refusal to comply with the council is likely to lead to enforcement action

Need for Change

The TRMP first came into effect in 1996. TDC is legally required to review the TRMP every 10 years. The time is ripe to revisit the rules relating to multiple residential activities on a site. Key questions to be addressed include what level of interest should TDC have in a landowner's decision to let others live on their land? What negative effects are being caused by such activities and how can they be alleviated? What positive social and environmental benefits are being missed out on due to the limits set by the current rules?

Public Meeting

All those with an interest in this issue are invited to this public meeting, hosted by the Motueka Valley Association. The meeting is an opportunity to raise awareness about this activity in the valley (and beyond) and to gauge the level of community support for a review of the TRMP. Real change can happen if there is a significant response from the community.

Greg Mason, a planning consultant living in the valley, will discuss the role of the RMA and TRMP and outline the process for reviewing the current rules. TDC councillors and planning staff will be invited to attend.

Pokororo Women's Club

invites any women from the Motueka Valley area to join them for an evening of interest, fun, and fellowship on Weds November 2 at 7.30pm, at the Pokororo Hall.

Please also support our jumble sale stall Oct 23 at the Ngatimoti School Fair (donations welcome --please call Ann at 5268076 for more information), from which all proceeds will go to the Jack Inglis Hospital and other local charities.

A LOCAL EXAMPLE ON THE ABOVE ISSUE

A LETTER FROM MOTUEKA VALLEY RESIDENTS

We are the owners of the property at 1212 West Bank Road, a.k.a. WantooWantoo, and we want to share our experiences of the encounters we've had with TDC over the last few months.

We have lived on our 10 hectare property since 2004. Over the years we have given other people an opportunity to come and live with us and share our desire for living compassionately, peacefully, self-sufficiently and sustainably. This way of life really works for us! We support each other in raising our children, we share resources, grow most of our food together and are always willing to help people in the wider community. And all that mixed in with lots of fun - we are enjoying our lives and we love this valley!

At the end of June we had an unexpected visit from the local TDC compliance officer. He told us things had been snowballing, that's how he ended up here; he had heard about unconsented residential activity on our property. Two days later (!) we got an abatement notice, stating that the two yurts and a strawbale cottage on our property were to be vacated within 28 days! Since this has been the home and whanau for our residents for several years, we didn't comply. Why would we? Where would they have to go? There haven't been any complaints. We have a very pleasant relationship with the owners of the adjoining properties, supporting each other where we can. The compliance officer came to check on us after the 28 days had elapsed. As nothing had changed, he said he would have to come back with a search warrant to gather evidence. At the end of September he turned up unannounced, accompanied by a police officer, a building inspector, a planner and another compliance officer. They took about an hour and a half to gather their evidence. The council officers agreed there and then that we were not doing anything wrong really, but multiple-occupancy is just not allowed by the Tasman Resource Management Plan (TRMP). Their next step is to present us with an enforcement order; an Environment Court case is looming.

Once again, TDC has not received any complaints about us. We have come to understand that other property owners in the valley have also been affected by TDC visits. The compliance officer implied there is still much more 'work' to do!

How many of us are breaking the letter of the law? Quite a few, surely, but we believe very few are actually breaking the spirit of the law. We are frustrated that the council officers seem to do their work as robots; that they think and act as institutionalised people. We have been upset about their display of power, which seemed to be intentional and was definitely overkill. They try to make us look like criminals, whereas we just want to continue to live a peaceful life - in a way that supports our fellow human beings - and look after our environment, that we treasure beyond measure.

We really wanted to share this with you to create awareness, not to create fear. There may be people out there with similar experiences. Make yourself heard. The TRMP is outdated and unless we stand up and unite, it isn't going to reflect the current needs of valley residents.

Did you see our outstanding godwits art on display at the Motueka Memorial Hall? With Term 3 wrapped up we are looking forward to our new classroom being built next term after Labour Weekend. Also next term we are looking forward to a variety of class trips, with some classes heading to the Ann Frank exhibition at the Nelson Museum, the claywork at the Suter Gallery, group challenges at Whenua Iti and a walk in the park for some! We will also have athletics, another Ngatimoti's Got Talent show and hopefully swimming!! ☺

But first . . .
Ngatimoti Festival 2011 -
Sunday 23 October - 10am-4pm
- $2 entry

We would love to see a trail of scarecrows pointing the way to our festival from all directions in the next week or two. There are prizes available as in previous years and scarecrows will be judged NEXT WEEK. Your scarecrow should clearly display this year's festival date and times to qualify. If you would like your scarecrow to be judged, please make sure we know where it is and who it belongs to!

- It's not too late to book your stall site - $35 each. Call Lou on 526 8815 if you have not yet secured your site.
- Our professional cake taster - the delicious Mr. Grooby! - will be judging the annual festival cake competition on Saturday 22 October, the day before festival. All entries are very welcome as well as donations for the Devonshire Teas which will take place in the school hall.

If anyone in our great community would like to offer their services helping out before, during or after the event we would love to hear from you or just turn up on the day (or the day before!), or if any local businesses are willing to offer a gift / donation for prizes and our silent auction please phone Amanda at school 5268842 (leave a message during the holidays - they will be picked up) or text 02108207923. We are looking forward to another great festival with the usual mix of fantastic local entertainment, crafts, talent and of course yummy food and drink; something for everyone so make a wish for a sunny day and thank you for supporting our school - see you there! ☺
